A color atlas for human assisted reproduction: laboratory and clinical insights

Amer Abdullah Kamal El-Samman, Ahmed Zohdi Mostafa Zohdi, Mohamed Hassan Nayel, Khadiel Raasim Ali,

Cairo University
Giza, Egypt

Doctoral (PhD) Thesis, 2004

Abstract

Lateral ventricular tumors are considered one of the greatest challenges to the neurosurgeons due to its deep location and the fact that they reach relatively large sizes before they attract clinical attention. In this work, 27 cases of lateral ventricular tumors were studied to view the different pathological entities, surgical approaches and the latest modalities in management of tumors in this area.

Keywords

Lateral ventricle, transcallosal, middle frontal gyrus, choroid plexus papilloma,