

14.2 Supporting aquatic ecosystems through education

14.2.2 CU educational programme / outreach for local or national communities on sustainable management of fisheries, aquaculture and tourism.

Cairo University offers educational programmes/training in aquaculture/fisheries (which align with part of your criteria) (especially via the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine):

- 1- The 1 st evidence: the report of the faculty of veterinary Medicine CU, 2024. See p.1.
- 2- The 2 nd evidence: CU’s Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, Cairo University joined a partnership with FAI (Fish Welfare Initiative) on the “Tilapia Welfare Project in Egypt” (launched 2024). This initiative involves educating students, veterinarians and fish-farmers in Egypt about improved aquaculture practices, fish welfare, disease management and ecosystem health.
- 3- The 3rd evidence: the faculty’s website “Aquatic Animal Medicine & Management” department lists education/training in aquaculture/fisheries for local and regional markets.
- 4- The 4th evidence: A news article (July 18 2024) reported a training programme for students of agriculture/veterinary sciences at multiple universities (including CU) on the “foundations of fish-farming, water quality management, integrated aquaculture on new desert lands” (i.e., parts of aquaculture education).
- 5- The 5th evidence: Faculty of Engineering — Water Engineering & Environment programme page and 2023 bylaws
