

7.4 Energy and the community

7.4.5 CU as a body provides assistance for start-ups that foster and support a low-carbon economy/technology.

- CU has sustainability/offices and Green Offices, indicating institutional interest in sustainability and clean energy, which could enable startup services in that space.

1- Cairo University is launching a new carbon literacy project through its Sustainability Office to mitigate the effects of climate change.

2- In the sustainability report 2023 (p.52) mentions the integration of sustainability into education and research.
